BEAUTY REBOOT

Three MC editors start fresh and reorganize their beauty essentials at home, at the gym, and on the go

“I’m a beauty hoarder! My pouch is always filled with more lip glosses and eyeliners than I could ever use.”
—Jessica

Blotting Papers: Charcoal-laced, oil-absorbing sheets nix excess shine and take the place of messy loose powder.

Eyeshadow Palette: A shimmery neutral palette is so foolproof and versatile—mix and match the long-lasting shades for endless looks; wet the brush to apply the shadows as liners.

Tinted Lip Balm: Add instant impact (and intense hydration) in one step with a glossy stain. For more vibrant color, slick on multiple layers.

■ The Makeup Bag

Jessica Henderson,
Senior Editor

The Problem: Her grimy nylon pouch is weighed down with crumbly eyeshadows, broken liners, and half-melted lipsticks. Time to streamline!

The Fix: An easy-to-clean plastic makeup bag and multitasking goods (brushes included) will make going from day to night a cinch.

■ The Medicine Cabinet

Lea Goldman, Features Director

The Problem: Sharing bathroom real estate with her husband and toddler creates impossible-to-navigate product clutter.

The Fix: Claim two shelves, then pare down and upgrade skin and health must-haves.

Sunscreen: If you have a block that's more than a year old, toss it. Get a lightweight sunscreen that you'll use 365 days a year. Fact: Snow can reflect UV rays and magnify their effect.

P.M. Skin Treatment: The skin's ability to absorb ingredients peaks at night (when pores open up), so opt for antioxidant serums at bedtime—you'll wake up refreshed.

Whitening Strips: New, easy-to-use teeth-whitening strips brighten your smile fast and effectively at home—and they don't sensitize teeth like the older-generation whiteners.

“I joke that I need a card catalog to search my medicine cabinet.”
